

It is that the wound was inflicted with some sharp instrument: a piece of glass might have produced it, but a kick could not. The most probable theory is that deceased fell on a piece of the broken bottle or some window glass, both of which were on the floor when she was found. The jury found a verdict against McMurray, but the Coroner, in consideration of the slight evidence against him, held him to bail in the sum of $3,000. The accused is a temperate, hard working man. He was in the habit of handing over his earnings to deceased, and too often she made bad use of the money. Mrs. McMurray was twenty-five years of age and a native of Ireland.

FATAL ACCIDENT TO A SAILOR.—An inquest was held at the New York Hospital by Coroner Wildey on the body of John J. Lewis, a sailor, thirty years of age and born in England, who died from the effects of injuries received by falling down the hold of the steamship Havana on Wednesday last. Deceased has left a family at New London, Conn.

FOUND DROWNED.—Coroner Wildey held an inquest over the remains of an unknown man which were washed ashore on Governor's Island. Deceased had been in the water about two weeks. He was dressed in dark clothes, muslin shirt, red flannel under shirt, and black necktie. It appeared that after the body was washed ashore some soldiers, stationed on the island, had rifled the pockets of deceased of money, a ring and some papers.

Police Intelligence.

ARREST OF AN ALLEGED SWINDLER.—William Meyer, a German, was arrested by officer Long, of the Seventeenth precinct, charged with defrauding Elizabeth Kruck, of 88 Elizabeth street, out of $630 in Treasury notes. The prisoner, as is alleged, obtained the money from Elizabeth under pretence of getting it changed into gold, at the same time leaving in her possession as collateral security a bank book, purporting to show that he had a deposit of $812 in the German Savings Bank. The money was not returned, and on making inquiries at the bank it appeared that he had only $10 in that institution. Amelia Schmitman, also a German girl, living at No. 33 Bowery, likewise charges Meyer with stealing $250 and a gold watch from her. Justice Shandley committed the accused to prison to answer both charges of larceny.

PICKPOCKET ON A RAIL CAR.—Wm. H. Jones, a young man, was arrested yesterday charged with attempting to pick pocket of Mr. Richard A. Reading, living on the corner the of Fifth avenue and 125th street, of a wallet containing $269 65. Mr. Reading, in attempting to enter a Third avenue car at Fourteenth street, felt a sudden pull at his pocket, and instantly turning his head saw Jones making a hasty exit from the car. Mr. Reading followed the prisoner, crying "Stop thief," and, after an exciting chase of several blocks, an officer caught the fugitive and took him to the Jefferson Market Police Court, where Justice Dodge committed him for examination. The stolen money was found on the rear of the platform of the car, where it had been dropped, and restored to the owner.
